

Biographies

Martha Campbell
Head Librarian
Colorado Supreme Court Library

Martha Campbell has been working at the Colorado Supreme Court Library since graduating from the University of Colorado, starting as a Library Assistant and currently as Head Librarian. She received a Master of Library Science from the University of Denver in 1985 after several years working in the library. She has served as an officer on several Colorado Association of Law Libraries boards and will be CoALL President starting in July 2003. Teaching legal research is one of her favorite aspects of being a law librarian, and instructing someone on how to go about obtaining legislative histories is almost a weekly event.

Daniel B. Cordova
Reference Librarian
U.S. Courts Library, Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals

Dan grew up in Northern Nevada where much of his education was learning the differences between luck, chance and skill. Ask him about it, and he will relate them directly to legal research (including where to start, what to consider, how quickly to move on and when to stop).

He holds a baccalaureate degree in Speech Communication from the University of Nevada-Reno, a law degree from the University of Colorado-Boulder, and a master's degree in Information Resources and Library Science from the University of Arizona in Tucson. He also served one tour in the U.S. Army as an interrogator.
